FIGHTING THE FLOODS

Wedding guests make it to church on time in 4x4

By Lucie Simic

lucie.simic@tindlenews.co.uk

THE owners of a bed and breakfast near Honiton came to the rescue for a couple of its guests when they became stranded in the flash floods that struck the area on Saturday.

The guests at Odle Farm Bed and Breakfast, Upottery, were visiting from America to attend a wedding in Membury on Saturday but were unable to use the flooded roads and instead had to be driven to Honiton across a common in a 4x4.

B&B owner Karen Marshallsay said: "We had a few guests who were stranded in the awful weather which caused flash floods on Saturday.

"Some of our guests had come all the way from America for a wedding and then were stranded here. Luckily, we managed to take them over the common in our 4X4 where the landlord of the Sidmouth Arms - who was going to the wedding - then took them to Membury for the wedding.

"Other guests we had staying in a cottage, needed to get to Honiton to catch a train for their flight back to Canada. We managed to get them to Honiton but all the trains had been cancelled. In the end they drove to Dorchester for a train.

"It certainly was a team effort to help everyone who was stranded thanks to the dreadful weather. Although, I wouldn't want too many stressful weekends like the one we've just had!

Imogen wins an Olympic place

IMOGEN Cairns is now beginning the countdown to the Olympic Games in London after being selected for the Great Britain gymnastics team.

After a nervous wait the 23-year-old, whose family live in the East Devon hamlet of Southleigh, was confirmed in the five-strong squad for her second Olympic Games after making her debut in Beijing four years ago.

Cairns has already linked up with the British squad for an intensive training camp at Lilleshall looking to build upon the recent return to her best which saw her clinch a place in the squad after so many injury problems since 2008.

She was out of action for 18 months with serious ankle injuries after helping the British women finish ninth in the team event in Beijing and her long-time coach Liz Kincaid, from the Academy of Gymnastics in Portishead, acknowledged that Cairns had to fight harder than ever before to force her way back into the reckoning.

"We work hard every year - but we have worked exceptionally hard this year," said Cairns.

Town cut off by road and rail after floods

■ BURST BANKS: Cars attempt to pass over the River Otter at Uppottery, near Honiton, after it burst its banks and flowed freely over the bridge

"I'm sure there are plenty of stories people could tell. The weather this year has been awful, and must have cost a lot of people a lot of money."

East Devon was hit badly by the flash flooding on Saturday, July 7th.

Despite the severity of the conditions, it was clear that the planned response of the close partnership of the emergency services: the Environment Agency, police, fire service as well as the local authorities, immediately swung into action and by Sunday afternoon, things were beginning to return to normal.

East Devon District Council's

StreetScene staff were out in force all over the district from the start, tackling the problems as they arose.

Leader of the council, Paul Diviani, said: "I am very proud of their dedication and community spirit and the resilience of our communities who were also fully involved in the clear up."

"And a special thanks must go to John Golding and the housing team for ensuring that those who had to evacuate their homes were found shelter in the emergency centres and with family and friends."

"Whilst emergencies are not a pleasant experience, it is reassuring to know help is at hand."

"We shall be having a wash-up meeting today to review the operation and learn from the experience to ensure our response in the future is the best."

Residents of Honiton were cut off as the roads in and out of the town were shut, with both lanes of the A30 closed.

South West Trains also suspended its rail services between Honiton and Yeovil after there was flooding on the line at Axminster.

Many people tried in vain to tackle the rising water levels but to no avail.

Feniton residents were unable to pass under the A30 at Ironbridge after water rose to an impassable level.

■ STRANDED: A lorry becomes stranded under the A30 bypass at Ironbridge after rain causes chaos and flash flooding across East Devon

How the Knowle site may look if the district council moves out

MORE details have been released of the viewing sessions that will be held in Sidmouth, starting next week, to inform residents and business people about the proposals for the Knowle site should EDDC decide to move its offices to another location.

The Council has released images that will be on show at the Sidmouth sessions, which are being held to discuss the current ideas for re-developing the site if EDDC vacates.

The images show how Knowle sits within the Sidmouth landscape, the footprint of the current buildings, the 'zones' for likely development in an outline planning application, and the large areas of parkland that would remain untouched and available for public access.

Further sessions may be held early next year, if the Council decides that it will definitely be leaving Knowle for new purpose-built offices in a more easily accessible part of the district. Those later sessions will be open to people from other parts of the district such as Honiton and Exmouth, so that EDDC can hear the views of people from these towns about where the new offices should be located and how they could operate.

The proposed move of the council's offices from its Knowle campus to purpose-built offices in Honiton under a project entitled Moving and Improving is still at an early stage, with plans being drawn up for possible alternative uses for the Knowle site, as well as studies looking at trees, wildlife and the possible economic impact on Sidmouth.

The three Sidmouth sessions are timed to happen before a proposed outline planning application is submitted on August 17th. This application is likely to be considered by councillors on November 16th.

Viewing dates

The first round of viewings will be on the following dates:

◆ Tuesday, July 10th in the Market Square at Sidmouth – from 9 am to 11 am.

◆ Saturday, July 14th in the Market Square at Sidmouth – from 10am to 2 pm.

◆ Tuesday, July 17th at Stowford Community Centre – from 6pm to 8 pm.

The move will go ahead only if the council can cover its costs through releasing the site at Knowle for a suitable type and scale of redevelopment. Running in parallel with the planning process will be a financial viability report, which will be available on November 30th. Any decision on a move will then be made by EDDC's Cabinet in December.

EDDC leader Paul Diviani said: "We want the people of Sidmouth to see how this important site might change if the outline planning application was approved and the site was sold for redevelopment. It's too early at this stage to get into conversations with Honiton and Exmouth. That will come later – if and when we decide to make the move".

EDDC will help people cope with benefit cuts

EAST DEVON District Council will be working with residents of working age to help them cope with changes to Council Tax Benefits coming into force in 2013 as part of the Government's welfare reforms. And there will be an eight-week consultation period starting in early August so people can influence the new local scheme.

The changes, which go under the title Localisation of Council Tax Benefit, will mean cuts to the benefit fund at the same time as responsibility is transferred from the Department for Work and Pensions to local councils, with effect from April 2013. The new scheme will be called Council Tax Support.

Whilst only some groups within the community will be directly affected by the changes, everyone needs to know what's happening and how councils in Devon are working together to limit the impact on hard-pressed families and individuals as much as possible. Pensioners will not be affected by any cuts in Council Tax Support.

Those working age people who are affected will see their Council Tax Support reduced by an amount yet to be finalised, but in some cases it could mean a drop of around 30 per cent. This could reduce the amount of Council Tax Support for some households by about £400 a year.

The draft options for consultation for East Devon are being discussed by EDDC councillors at a Cabinet meeting tomorrow (Wednesday).

These proposals can be viewed in a report from the Council's Revenues and Benefits Manager that is online at: http://www.eastdevon.gov.uk/combined_agenda_for_110712_-_public_version.pdf

More details about the proposals for East Devon will be released as soon as possible.

Pensioner protests outside bank

A HONITON pensioner staged a one-man protest against 'greedy bankers' in response to the recently revealed lending rate scandal.

Tony Simpson parked himself outside Barclays Honiton office, but stressed he had nothing against those working in the branch.

Mr Simpson said: "This protest is not aimed at bank employees who are losing their jobs by the thousands.

"I do not trust the boards of the major banks nor should employees or shareholders.

"I have closed my account at Barclays and will return to a mutual."

His one-hour protest took place in the morning of Wednesday, July 4th.

There were a few raised eyebrows but Mr Simpson said there had been no animosity from bank staff or passers by.

"I hope people all over the country will take action against banks caught up in the latest LIBOR scam.

"This comes on top of the disastrous bank debt crisis affecting us all caused by speculative bank lending and banks bosses being paid huge bonuses they do not deserve.

"Only by acting can we expect the government to

By Anders Larsson
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

stand up to the banks, prosecute top bankers and their board members and legislate to reform the banks.

"Sadly I think that since we have a government of millionaires and bankers this will not really happen unless we make it happen.

"Honiton knows all about bank collapses.

"Only yards away, Flood and Lotts Honiton Bank collapsed in 1847 leaving depositors penniless.

"We should have learned since then."

About his protest, he said: "It was well worth doing, if only to speak to people on the street.

"I want corrupt bankers to be brought before the courts as criminals – as in America where bank dishonesty is a criminal offence.

"I want bank lending and borrowing to be separated from investment and speculation.

"Last but not least, I want banks to be properly regulated and the governor of the Bank of England to be accountable."

Mr Simpson hasn't got a future action plan, but hasn't ruled out similar protests.

FED UP: Mr Simpson spreading his message outside the Honiton branch of Barclays

He said: "Never say never." He stressed that he acted in his capacity as a Honiton resident.

The Barclays press office declined to comment.

Coastguard rescues a 45-year-old kayaker

THE Coastguard and Lyme Regis Lifeboat rescued a kayaker, from the Honiton area, who was desperately hanging on to a marker buoy off Seaton.

Apart from emergency vessels, the Coastguard helicopter was also despatched to the scene.

The drama started just after 7pm on Sunday July 1st.

Beer Coastguard station officer Terry Hoare said: "A 45-year-old man was rescued from the sea after his Kayak capsized throwing him into the sea just outside the mouth of the river Axe.

"He was swept out to sea until he luckily managed to hold on to a marker buoy, but by then he was over 100m off shore."

Several 999 calls alerted the Coastguard, which dispatched Beer Coastguard team, Lyme Regis Lifeboat and the Coastguard helicopter.

Mr Hoare said: "The Coastguard team arrived on scene and could see the upturned kayak but initially could not see the man in the water.

"After a short time he was spotted along way off shore, clinging to the marker buoy.

"The coastguard team 'conned' the lifeboat to the man's position and they pulled him from the water.

"After assessing his condition it was decided he needed hospital treatment as he had swallowed a lot of sea water." The coastguard helicopter winched the casualty from the lifeboat and transferred him to hospital in Dorchester.

His condition was not life-threatening.

Mr Hoare summed up: "Luckily the man was wearing a life-jacket, which probable saved his life.

"Had he not had a lifejacket on he would have been dragged under due to the rough sea state at the river mouth."

MP visits Blue Cross animal hospital and learns of the charity's work

TIVERTON and Honiton MP, Neil Parish was given a tour last Thursday, July 5th around the Blue Cross Animal Hospital in Victoria, one of three operated by the animal shelter in London.

It is the Blue Cross's flagship hospital and is the oldest animal hospital in the world.

The Blue Cross Animal Hospital has been providing free veterinary care to the pets of those on reduced incomes and means tested benefits on this site since 1906.

The Hospital is open 24 hours a day for emergencies and is at the frontline of animal welfare treating around 30,000 poorly pets every year.

Neil Parish, who is also chairman of the Associate Parliamentary Group on Animal Welfare, was given a tour of the facility by Amanda Marrington and met staff members and clients to discuss animal welfare issues.

Speaking during his visit, Neil Parish said "The Blue Cross do amazing work rescuing animals abandoned by their owners and help find them a loving home.

"They also provide hope to pet owners who would otherwise be unable to afford to get their pet's treatment."

Hundreds flock to vet's dog show

■ PEOPLE flocked to Vale Veterinary Centre in Honiton as they took to a family fun day for charity. The event was deemed a great success when hundreds poured into the grounds in the Heathpark Industrial Estate for a day of animal themed fun. The day was made extra special with a dog show that attracted dogs of all shapes and sizes, with more than 150 entries. Other fun on the day included face painting, a mini race track, ice creams, homemade cakes, free 'dog hair do's' from Debonair Dogz and a huge variety of stalls. Practice manager, Sarah Foster said: "All in all, it was a fun day out for all the family. We would like to thank all involved in making it such a successful day, particularly the Vale team who, as always, worked hard to make the day run smoothly. Thanks also to Colin from Creature Comforts who generously provided the entire dog show prizes."

Kids' science fun

CAMBRIDGE Hands-on Science (CHaOS), a voluntary organisation of students from the University of Cambridge, is coming to Seaton and Sidmouth.

Richard Ingham of CHaOS said: "CHaOS is a student run, not for profit organisation that has been running for over ten years, giving children hands-on experience of science, guided by a student demonstrator.

"We aim to show our visitors that science is fun not just because we can do exciting or spectacular things like making fizzies and bangs, but also because even everyday things are exciting if you figure out how they work."

You can catch CHaOS at Seaton Town Hall on Friday, July 20th and Stowford Rise Community Centre, Sidmouth, on Saturday, July 21st. Both events run from 12noon-5pm.

Those unable to make any of those dates will have another chance in Marine Parade Shelters, Lyme Regis, on Sunday, July 22nd, also from 12noon-5pm.

For more information visit www.chaosscience.org.uk/summer-road-show-2012.

Dead dog in the Axe

THE Coastguard was called after youngsters discovered a dead dog floating in the River Axe, near Seaton, on Saturday, June 30th.

The discovery was made at about 2pm and a spokesperson for the Coastguard said: "The body of a pit bull terrier was recovered with the help from the local yacht club work-boat.

"There was no identification with the animal."

their new ice dance costumes to be revealed at Seaton Carnival in September.

Alongside a whole host of stalls selling bric-a-brac, books and cakes, there were a number of games set up and run by the majorettes as well as a barbecue and cream teas.

Leader of Seaton Majorettes, June Millman said: "We had a great afternoon and for once the weather was kind to us.

"We would like to thank all the people who came and supported the girls, this was much appreciated. We raised about £350 and hope to make a bit more when the girls bring in their sponsored twirl money."

The next fundraising event for the group will be a bag pack at the Seaton Tesco store on July 14th from 9am until 1pm.

New kids' dance classes in Seaton

CHILDREN'S 'ZumbaAtomic' and street jazz classes at Seaton Town Hall have gone from strength to strength.

Local instructor Johanna Morgan was thrilled to launch the very first children's 'Little Starz' ZumbaAtomic dance fitness class and 'Junior Crew' Street Jazz class last month.

Due to the success of Johanna's weekly Seaton Town Hall adult Zumba classes (Tuesday, 6pm-7pm and Wednesday, 10am-11am), she is now able to offer additional classes for children.

Both new classes will be held on a termly basis, on Tuesday evenings, prior to Johanna's adult Zumba Fitness class.

There are only two weeks left before the children's classes break for the summer, with classes due to recommence in September.

Because of this, Johanna is offering the first class offered completely free of charge with a perfect opportunity for children to experience the classes before the summer break.

For more information contact Johanna's adult or children's classes should contact her directly at johannamorgan.zumbafitness@gmail.com or on 07739 518587.

Beach mystery: solved

■ EXPERTS from the Natural History Museum were called in to help establish that the mystery carcass found on the beach in Seaton was that of a dolphin.

An Axminster resident and her dog discovered the carcass when walking the beach on Sunday, June 24th. Lizzy Naylor informed East Devon District Council's Environmental Health department, which removed the carcass. But nobody was able to say exactly what type of animal Lizzy and her dog had found, so EDDC had to call in experts.

Lizzy said: "We found the carcass of a very strange animal."

She described the carcass by saying: "It is over a metre long and has no legs at all. It has a skull, spine and a tail and some of the skin was still on parts of it."

The mystery was eventually solved, though. A spokesperson for EDDC said: "The carcass being stored in the EDDC freezer has been identified as a dolphin. The Natural History Museum was informed to help with identification and in case they wished to take the carcass for further study. However after discussion it has been decided the carcass is too badly decomposed to be of use and it will now go for incineration."

South West In Bloom judges visit Beer

BEER villagers gathered to welcome South West In Bloom judges as they once again showcased the village.

Judges Kim Parish and Steve Clampin arrived in Beer on Friday where members of Beer Horticultural Society took them on a long route through the village.

This year the competition was updated with the need of a portfolio and stronger evidence of community work. Over the past year villagers have pulled together to support the Beer In Bloom team, with a number of local organisations and groups joining in to help.

The tour took the judges around the main streets in the village, as well as visiting individual sites such as Barnard's Farm, Beer beach, the Fine Foundation Centre and Charlie's Yard before arriving at a special reception at the Dolphin Hotel.

The judges were greeted by several members of the local community who showed their involvement with both the horticultural society and the South West In Bloom competition.

Those in attendance were members of the horticultural society - John and Diane Lang, Christina Turner and chairman Ursula Makepeace, alongside the chairman of Beer Parish Council, Martin Richards, and parish councillor, Trevor Wood.

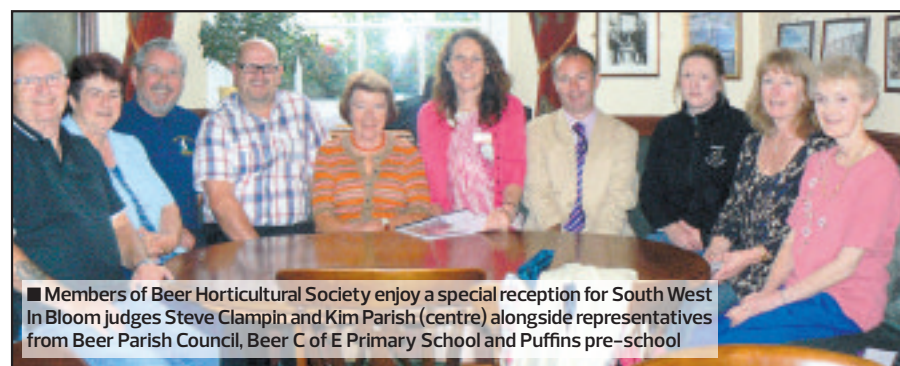

Jane Aplin also attended representing Beer C of E Primary School who showcased the school's interest in the competition and pro active planting and growing. Emma Westlake also came along on behalf of Puffins pre-school who promoted their forest schools sessions, where children go out to observe plants, trees and flowers, learn how to grow flowers and plants from seeds and grow vegetables on the pre school site.

Members of Beer In Bloom were pleased with the general response and feedback from the judges, with great improvements made in all areas of the judging criteria from community work to the standard and quality of the blooms in the village.

For judge Steve Clampin, it was the first time he had visited Beer and he was pleased to be part of the judging team. He said: "I have not been to Beer before but it is absolutely delightful and so colourful. You can really see that the committee have worked very hard and I have really enjoyed my visit here."

Fellow judge Kim Parish returned for her second year to the village and was impressed with how much the group had taken on board from last year's feedback. She added: "Once again Beer looks absolutely beautiful in bloom and it was great to return to the village. You can really see that the group have taken comments from last year's competition on board, and have acted upon them with great effort and the village is really developing strongly."

Members of Beer Horticultural Society would like to thank all those involved for supporting them and are grateful for the ongoing support from the community.

Lions president handover to new man

■ FORMER Seaton Lions president Dennis Morgan, right, hands over the reins to Neil Rutter

THE Seaton and District Lions Club held their annual 'handover' at The Kings Arms earlier this month.

Lions' president Dennis Morgan wasn't able to 'keep it in the family' on this occasion, owing to the fact that Lion Clive Millman has been unable to proceed from vice president to president due to a recent illness.

The president's chain of office was therefore handed to Lion Neil Rutter stepping up from second vice president to president for the year 2012-2013.

Dennis Morgan reviewed the events of the past year; he felt that it had been a successful year and that the Seaton & District Lions Club was considered to be in a healthy position as far as its current membership was concerned. Dennis thanked the Lions for their support.

New president Neil Rutter said he hoped that he would receive the support of the club and that new members would be coming forward to carry the club into a bright future.

On behalf of the Club, Neil presented Dennis with a token and his wife, Hilda, with a patio rose.

Cycle route meeting

A FURTHER meeting to discuss the proposed Stop Line Way cycle route and accompanying toucan crossing in Colyford will be held on Wednesday, July 18th.

This follows a previous public meeting in May when many local residents posed questions to Devon County Councillor, Sara Randall Johnson, regarding the proposals.

Councillor Randall Johnson will be returning to Colyford Memorial Hall and it is hoped many residents will attend to ask questions. There will also be a questionnaire at the meeting regarding the Section 106 money allocated to the parish of Colyford for residents to sign.

The meeting will start with refreshments at 6.30pm and discussion at 7pm.

Carnival Princess hopeful

COLYTON youngster Phoebe Rabjohns is hoping this year to be crowned Carnival Princess.

Phoebe has two upcoming fundraising events to boost her efforts to raise the most money to be crowned Colyton's Carnival Princess for Carnival Week in September.

On Friday, July 13th she will be hosting a bingo night at Southleigh Village Hall starting at 7.30pm.

On Sunday, July 15th Phoebe will be serving cream teas on St Andrew's Parish Church green or, if wet, in the Sunday School room from 3pm, costing £3 each.

Jubilee coffee morning

COLYTON Parish History Society will be hosting a coffee morning on Saturday, July 14th to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

As well as offering the usual refreshments, the society will be displaying artifacts and memorabilia from past royal celebrations in the town.

The event will be held in Colyton Town Hall from 10am to 12.30pm.

Students boost food bank with over 700 tins

YEAR 9 students at Colyton Grammar School collected more than 700 tins of food for Exeter Foodbank through a three-week appeal, writes student reporter Chris Wood.

Pete Scott from Exeter Foodbank expressed his gratitude to the students for the 716 items.

He said: "We give out over half a tonne a week in food, going out to over 50 individuals in crisis in Exeter.

"We have empty shelves at present, so this donation is extremely well timed.

"We get lots of donations from schools at harvest time, but during slower periods we really appreciate the support."

Mr Scott also thanked the students who launched the original appeal two years ago, saying: "The students who helped before have given the inspiration for future classes to continue helping the charity."

■ ECO TEAM: Mr Stidwell and Green Society members with the new composter

■ GENEROUS BANKERS: Students celebrate the success of their appeal

COLYTON Grammar School has welcomed the arrival of a brand new Ridan Composter as part of its ongoing eco-friendly schemes.

The composter churns food waste, mixing it with woodchips to aerate it and prepare it for the natural process of decomposition.

Colyton Grammar produces approximately 15 to 20 kilograms of food waste per day and is keen to reduce the amount of food waste sent to landfill, with composting one of the most useful and efficient ways of doing this.

Head of the Green Society, Mr Stidwell, said: "This has been a long process, but with funding from a Devon grant and school funds we now have in place an excellent and sustainable system, that in the long term will help reduce the school's ecological footprint and save the school money."

Who needs a brush?

SEATON & DISTRICT ART SOCIETY

FRED Slatter, chairman of the Seaton & District Art Society, expressed his delight at seeing the Methodist Hall packed for their last demonstration.

Members and visitors came to listen to Lyn Marie Whiteman giving a talk and demonstration on 'Oils with a Palette Knife'.

Lyn's choice for her demonstration was a morning view of Mawgan Porth, near Newquay, which she hoped would inspire the audience to have a go at painting with a palette knife.

The fun of painting with a palette knife, she told the audience, is that you can paint a picture in two hours and it does not allow you to get caught up in too much detail.

It also creates more texturing than a brush and as can be seen from her work it is a wonderful media for painting reflections on water.

If a beginner, it's advisable to start with a limited colour palette so that one can play and learn about mixing paints.

A tip in keeping your white oil paint clean is to squeeze it from the tube in a three inch line rather than a small lump.

Oil paints dry from the outside in and if applied thickly can take a year to dry! Fortunately, there are products on the market which can speed up this process.

Lyn finished by praising the audience for their enthusiasm and said how much she had enjoyed coming. A vote of thanks was given by the chairman.

There will be no monthly demonstration in August as it is the society's 40th annual art exhibition at Seaton Town Hall. This event will be open to the public from August 4th to 9th, 10am-6pm.

The monthly talk will resume on September 3rd at 2pm when David Webb will give a demonstration and talk on 'Animals In Water-colour'.

The venue for this event has changed from the Methodist Church to Seaton Town Hall. New members and visitors will be made welcome.

Roy's history of glass sparkles at Probus club

AXMINSTER PROBUS CLUB

A MEMBER of Axminster Probus Club for 20 years and now of honorary status, Roy Winterburn has spoken to the members on several occasions.

On July 3rd he left behind his love of steam railways to talk on the subject of glass.

Technically glass is a liquid despite its feel, though few laymen would be comfortable with that definition - which could include Perspex and some metals.

Roy demonstrated his talk with illustrations from the world about us.

Crowds milling around at Wembley and a pile of ball bearings were used to show why some materials are crystalline and others - such as glass - are not.

Glass manufacture is known from about 3,000 years BC but it was not until the Romans that clear, durable glass could be made, often in great quantity.

For almost a millennium after the departure of the Romans the art was lost until the monasteries of Europe started production for the churches and the wealthy.

By the 16th century the British became proficient. By long tradition the success of the venture prompted the tax raisers to impose duty on glass which limited its use.

Tax avoidance became rife with windows being blocked up. It was not until 1845 that the tax law was repealed, allowing for the construction of the Crystal Palace in 1851.

Roy went on to describe the old methods of manufacture such as Crown Glass where a blob of molten glass was spun to make a flat disc.

Thickest at the centre and of low quality, it was cheap (though not so in the 1960s when its use became fashionable!).

The outer sections were thinner and clear so were in vogue for windows though it was only possible to cut small pieces.

The shape allowed for tapered pieces to be cut which led to the widespread use of fanlights in Georgian buildings.

Technical progress in the 20th century led to specialised forms of glass and covered the range from plain windows through to Pyrex, windscreens and to such buildings as the London Shard, recently built.

As always Roy brought his subject to life, making it appear to be a life-time passion rather than an occasional interest.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men will next meet at the Kilminster Cafe, Bistro & Motel on the A35 Gammons Hill on Tuesday, September 4th.

One law for them, one for us

■ SO I ask myself why is it a woman can be fined when her child throws a sweet wrapper from a car window and yet not the bankers who deliberately fiddled the Libor interest rate to deceptively give a false impression of the banks' strength and so making them look a better investment than they really were?

This not only affected the mortgage rates and loans many of us pay but was also a 'nice little earner' for some banker.

Why is it the aforementioned woman could be hauled up to court and fined but as far as British law is concerned what the bankers did is not against the law?

The heads of these banks may well have checked with company lawyers before turning a blind eye to the practise knowing the fines imposed (as the recent £290 million fine imposed on Barclays) would be a drop in the ocean.

It was only four times Bob Diamond's yearly income and one day of Barclays trading.

So why does this anomaly exist? The short answer is greed, profits, taxes and (in my opinion) party funding.

Greed and profits are obviously reasons, these have been the reasons for all the previous issues that have rubbed the 'man in the street' up the wrong way since 2008, but why taxes and party funding?

Manufacturing industry was decimated during the Seventies and early Eighties and now it accounts only for a small fraction of the UK's GDP.

Now most of our money is made from selling beefburgers, stock and shares and banking. Doesn't it make you feel proud?

So we need the taxes raised from banking. Of course the smaller profits they make the less tax we get.

So the more regulation and laws they have imposed on them the less they can fiddle and so decreasing profits, so reducing taxes.

Of course the fiddling usually involves bleeding the 'man in the street' dry through things such as bank charges.

You may remember during the last government bank charges were about to be repaid by the banks because they were deemed as unfair, but after a change of government and the renamed high court to the 'Supreme court' (so not to confuse the Americans) and they no longer are unfair.

Since the 'Big bang' in 1986 previous governments have failed to legislate or regulate the banks enough and the present deferred any decisions so as to prevent another banking disaster until just before the next election.

Why? Profits and taxes but why party contributions?

I believe high ranking bankers contribute to a certain political party and a certain political party needs all the money it can get.

Imposing regulations on banks would displease the high ranking bankers. So why fines for sweet wrappers but not for fiddling?

Same old reason, because they (the establishment) can hold onto power and make money while we (everybody else) are the 'cash cows'.

Congratulations on a great show

■ MAY I through your letters congratulate the staff, the choreographer and the students of Axe Valley Community College for putting on such an excellent show with 'Axeplosion'.

The all go show kept us entertained with some superbly choreographed setss which the students performed brilliantly.

The 'Chicago' scenes in particular were brilliantly done and what made it even the more enjoyable was the fact that all of the dancers seemed to be enjoying themselves as well.

The young rock band and the steel band were both excellent and the three young comperes added a nice touch of humour. A great night out. Well done to all concerned, brilliant.

Beehive answers

■ THE council meeting held on May 31st 2012, where I asked the council who pays if the project income falls short of expenditure, was answered by the following:

"It is intended that the Beehive will be managed by a cooperative involving not just the town councillors and the HCCA but also the wider public.

"The cooperative will be expected to be self financing in the same way that the town council runs the market, and it would be expected that any losses were balanced by a reduction in running costs."

I have assumed from this reply that the taxpayers of Honiton will bear the cost of any losses, unless the fundraising committee will be raising funds for the next 50 years.

If a job's worth doing...

■ I WENT to Seaton on Saturday June 24th and saw the signs on the Esplanade: 'No parking on June 21st as resurfacing taking place'.

Good I thought, at last we are getting rid of all the pot holes in the road.

Imagine my surprise when I walked along there! All they had done was patch a few holes, leaving more than they had filled, and none of the parking spaces had been touched.

Surely it costs as much to re-touch as it does to do the work properly. Then I remembered, this was only Seaton. I do not imagine the sea front at Sidmouth is ever left to get into this condition.

School's right to put safety first

■ I AM getting fed up with people like Clive Lewis who seem to have nothing better to do than moan about anything and everything.

Whilst my son doesn't attend Axminster Primary School, I fully applaud them and the police for taking measures to ensure that all the children and the traffic on the route (including Mr Lewis) were as safe as possible.

Musbury joins in Olympic fun

MUSBURY Primary School pupils produced their own Union Jack flags for the Axe Valley and Colyton Learning Community Olympic Torch Relay.

Staff and pupils from Seaton Primary School brought the torch to Musbury by bicycle and tram.

The torch was handed over to Musbury headteacher Clive Salmon by his Seaton counterpart Alan Simpson.

Shortly afterwards, Musbury pupils Jonathan Jacks, Hannah Wright, Charlie Parris, teaching assistant Becky Butler and Mr Salmon made their way by bicycle to Kilminster Primary School.

They received a warm welcome and the torch was handed on to pupils there.

Flower show hopes for more

BEER Horticultural Society's annual flower show is to take place on Thursday, August 2nd at the Mariners Hall.

Flower show schedules are available from Beer News and the 'Top Shop'.

The green-fingered group are hoping for another successful year and that they'll see an increase in entries, especially in the children's categories.

Getting into the Olympic spirit

SHUTE Community Primary School's Cross Country Club played its part in the Axe Valley and Colyton Learning Community Olympic torch relay.

Two torches – one made by students at Axe Valley Community College and one made by their counterparts at Colyton Grammar School – featured in the relay. Members of the Shute club carried the torch produced in Colyton from Shute to Colyton primary School on Thursday, June 21st.

Despite incessant rain and some very large puddles, the children successfully completed the six-mile relay before delivering the torch to pupil Elana May Blackmore just outside Colyton.

Elana then proudly carried it for the last stretch of the journey.

Headteacher Amanda Graham said: "My admiration and thanks go out to the children and to the rest of the staff and pupils who joined us to celebrate the hand-over of the torch by Elana. It was a proud day for Shute and for other schools in our Learning Community."

Musbury children spend the day at sea life centre

MUSBURY Primary School infants and Musbury Moles Pre-School enjoyed a joint trip to Weymouth Sea Life Centre last Friday.

The children were keen to find out new facts and exploring different habitats that sea creatures around the world live in. The children were able to watch sharks being fed and get up close to the stingrays in the open top tank.

Most of the children bravely conquered the rides, Musbury Infants sailed the seas in the 'rocking tug boat' and some of the pre-school-ers rocketed skywards to get a great view across the park.

The children's excellent behaviour was commented on by the staff and members of the public alike.

It was a very enjoyable and memorable trip for all who went.

■ Children from Musbury enjoyed their day out at Weymouth Sea Life Centre

A summer we want to forget

SATURDAY turned out to be a long and wet day for my reporting staff.

The most severe flooding in East Devon for at least 40 years tested their ingenuity to the extreme as they struggled to get into towns and villages cut off by the swollen rivers.

The Axe was so high that the Environment Agency issued a warning that water levels were "a danger to life", a statement that was still, being repeated on national TV on Monday morning.

With the obvious exception of fire and earthquake, flooding has got to be one of the worst disasters to endure.

So our first thoughts must go to those whose properties were flooded, many not for the first time. It must be heart-breaking.

"Disaster" can be an over-used word in such circumstances but there is no doubt that had the torrential rain continued for much longer on Saturday afternoon the consequences could have been much worse.

The sheer force of the water cascading through our streets and into some homes was indeed frightening in places.

■ Fast flowing water at the bottom of Castle Hill, Axminster on Saturday afternoon

EDITOR AT LARGE

Philip Evans

It is during such circumstances that we come to realise how lucky we are to have such dedicated emergency services, especially the Fire Brigade.

Some crews in our area worked without a break for 14 hours, pumping out flooded properties, then moving into other areas to offer comfort and support.

A word of praise also for East Devon District Council staff who were mobilised and played a blinder, earning a much deserved tribute from council leader, Paul Diviani.

Such circumstances also brings out the best in community spirit with neighbour helping neighbour. This was evident right across the East Devon area.

As a young reporter I will remember covering the serious floods that hit East Devon in the late 1960s.

Hidden away in a box of old photos of various big stories I have covered over the years is a black and white print of a very frightened looking cub reporter up to his waist in water wading along the road between Axminster and Kilmington, now known as Trafalgar Way, torch in hand, attempting to rescue a dog trapped on the roof of a car that was sinking fast in the rising floods.

The photo was taken by former Axminster photographer Dave King, now back in the area, who captured the occasion before wading in himself.

I was working for the Express & Echo in Exeter at the time and was also detailed to cover the floods in Feniton.

These were considered to be so serious that Prince Philip was flown in by helicopter to inspect the damage and offer a few words of sympathy to the victims. Before doing so he was introduced to the attendant press corps, something that would never happen these days.

This has been a miserable summer, climaxed by the distressing events of Saturday, and the forecast it would seem offers little hope of too much sun in the near future.

From it, however, we can draw some strength from the fact that it will probably be another 40 years before we experience such a deluge again.

What was that about global warming?

CONGRATULATIONS to the staff of the Midweek Herald, our main competition in East Devon, which has been named as the South West's free newspaper of the year. Greatly deserved.

The Herald was named as the South West's top free paper in the EDF Energy media awards at Bath last week and was described by the judges as "a clean looking paper and a good read". The award is a massive feather in the cap of hard-working editor Belinda Bennett and her editorial staff.

Someone stopped me in the street, having read of the success in The Herald, and asked me where we came in the awards.

"Not placed" was my reply – for the simple reason that we did not enter the competition. Even if we did, I don't think we would be successful as the awards are judged by other media types who would not be over-impressed with our concentration on community rather than hard news.

But I was the editor who launched the Midweek Herald in the mid-1980s when I was working in Sidmouth for former Fleet Street journalist Jimmy Hall, who eventually sold out to Community Media before it became Archant, the current owners.

The light at the end of the tunnel

SO FAR, this has been a summer of unrelenting gloom weather-wise. However, there must, I feel certain, be light at the end of the dark, rain-drenched tunnel even if it will almost be too late for those of us who are desperately wondering when, if ever, we will be able to make hay or small-bale silage.

Many farmers, working flat out a fortnight or so ago, managed to garner some large bale silage but there are acres of uncut grass running to seed and losing its goodness.

We have a mere acre to cut, but this is intended to keep my wife's hunter in good stead through the winter; fortunately we have some bales left from last year, but the prospect at the moment is fairly grim. The lack of hay and silage will inevitably affect the equestrian world and I can see the price going through the roof. Not a pleasing outlook.

On the butterfly front there is little good news. Currently, a few meadow browns are fluttering in the tall, wet grasses, with the occasional hedge brown, but the more colourful and once plentiful red admirals, peacocks and tortoiseshells are completely absent as too are so many of the moths which we once took for granted as they fluttered against lights or sought nectar in the garden dusk.

However, ubiquitous rabbits are again displaying their resilience. Last year myxomatosis destroyed virtually the entire population in my immediate area. Virtually but not quite all! Suddenly the odd rabbit was seen again, and now, after a successful breeding season in the spring, numbers are back to something close to normal. This, for me, is a relief as I greatly enjoy rabbit pie and casserole!

Rabbits may be back but there seems to be a dearth of bats. Usually, in a normal summer I see one or two pipistrelles tracing their flickering flight against the evening sky as they search for insects, but so far none have been spotted. Nor, as one grows older, can the thin calls any longer be heard.

However, in East Devon a Blackdown Hills Big Bat Survey is scheduled to take place on Friday, July 20th; this is an annual event sponsored by Somerset Bat Group and Somerset Environmental Records Centre and supported by the Blackdown Hills AONB.

Volunteers are invited to join a group led by an experienced bat surveyor and this will provide the opportunity to learn about the different bat species, flight patterns and echolocation calls. The walk will take about two hours and will include scheduled stops to listen for bats.

Apparently bats are thriving in the Blackdown Hills as a result of the mosaic of habitats and last year Barabstelle, Leisler's and Lesser Horseshoe bats were identified. This year it is hoped that the Greater Horseshoe bat will be identified.

Older children are welcome on the survey, but as quite a lot of walking at night is involved they must be 12 or over and accompanied by an adult. Places are limited so booking is essential. Contact agni-arampoglou@somerc.com or call 01823 652424 or 664450. I understand that survey routes in particular need of more volunteers include Yacombe and Dunkeswell.

I hear that two new films made by Dorset Wildlife Trust will be showing at the ICC1360 Arena in Weymouth as part of the London 2012 Cultural Olympiad By The Sea. The films will feature the county's outstanding wildlife and habitats on land and sea and will be shown on a giant screen. The screening will take place at Weymouth Pavilion Theatre forecourt from July 26th to September 9th and tickets cost £3 for a half hour session. Telephone 01305 783225 to book.

Musbury Flower Festival hailed as great success

ORGANISERS of Musbury Flower Festival are pleased to announce that their first event in six years was a great success.

Raising over £1,000 towards the upkeep of St Michael's Church, the flower festival welcomed many through the doors and the church was filled with brightly coloured flowers and arrangements.

The theme of the festival was 'Walks Of Life' and arrangements featured a wide variety of props from shoes and boots to celebratory bouquets and displays reflecting special times such as birth and weddings.

FIRST this week we must mention the Exeter Cathedral Flower Festival, which has been two and a half years in preparation and is the first for 13 years.

The title reflects the Diamond Jubilee and the Majesty of the Cathedral. All proceeds go to the restoration of the cathedral organ. Opening days are July 11th to 15th from 9am (Wednesday 10am) to 5pm and, Sunday, noon to 4pm. Telephone 01392 285983 for more information.

Exeter Cathedral has also announced Wednesday evening organ recitals on July 18th and August 1st, 15th & 29th. All performances take place at 8pm; adults £7, students £3.50 and children free.

Last week we mentioned new advice for church treasurers and it is now clear that charities and churches will be able to claim 25p on every £1 collected below £20, up to a total of £5,000, without requiring a Gift Aid declaration. It is estimated that this could bring in £13m for churches and charities in a full year - and it starts in April next.

The Friends of the Diocese of Cyprus and the Gulf, linked with the Exeter Diocese, hold their annual meeting and Eucharist at the church of Allhallows by the Tower on Monday, July 16th. The event is followed by lunch. Telephone 01372 373912 for more information. The Friends will have their Calendar for 2013 on sale - contact angela@gemac.biz for further details.

On to local events: Axminster Christian Aid report an excellent total of £2,740 for this year's week. Seaton's Christian Aid coffee morning takes place on July 14th from 10am-11:30am at the Methodist Church.

The Church of the Holy Family Honiton has announces a Summer Festival of Theology at Buckfast Abbey from July 14th -17th. For enquiries ring, 01364 645390.

St Michael's Church in Honiton has recently been in the news and it is announced that there will be a Mission Community and Ecumenical Evensong there on Sunday, July 22nd - all are welcome.

St Paul's Church in Honiton have a lunchtime concert in aid of church funds on Tuesday, August 7th at 12:30pm with a retiring collection.

At Axminster, the Minster Church offers a Lunchtime Concert at 12:30pm on Thursday, July 12th.

Colyton Church hosts St Andrew's Choir in concert on Sunday, July 5th at 7:30pm - programmes £5. Then on Sunday, July 29th at 10:45am there's a short piano recital by Nicholas Brown, Director of Music.

Streetdance Summer Project

THIS year Sara perry, accompanied by long time students Maddy Cozen and Rosie Underdown, is running a three day dance programme for ages 7 - 16 and suitable for all levels of experience. This fun and inspired course will allow participants to create new and imaginative choreography and learn many new skills and dance styles. At the end of the three days students will perform to a live audience and then have the opportunity to also perform at the Air Ambulance celebrations on August 4th and also in Exmouth August 25th.

"As a student of Sara Perry's Confi-Dance & Strictly Streetz, I have met new people and had an exciting experience through my acting, singing and dance training. After learning with Sara for a few years last summer we did a training course together to become certified streetdance teachers. I have been opened up to many new opportunities and this year I have been gaining further experience by teaching classes under her guidance. I am currently doing A levels so it was essential for me to continue dancing while doing academic subjects at the Axe Valley Community College, Sixth form. This year as part of Sara Perry's summer school will be run by students; Maddy Cozens and me, Rosie Underdown. Each year Sara runs a summer school to open up her classes to fresh students. This summer there will be Three live performances at the end of the three day event. The course will be purely dance based and for those passionate about dance. People outside the company as well as those who are already in Confi-Dance classes are welcomed. Sara will have involvement in the summer school and will provide a feature routine for students. Routines will include so many different genres so there is sure to be something for everyone!"

The price for the programme, taking place July 31st - August 1st, is only £35.00 (originally £60.00) so if you would like to sign up call Sara direct on 01297 23474 / 07939946780 on face book or email on strictlystreetz@mail.com.

Lower alcohol 'Lymelight' wine available now from Lyme Bay Winery

LYME Bay Winery now offer a lower-alcohol, 'healthier' range of six of their fruit wines, new for 2012, called 'Lymelights'.

The range is a fresh, light take on the popular classic wine range, and has a 5.5% alcohol volume, as opposed to the 14.5% of the regular Fruit Wines.

The 'Lymelights' range has two reds - Elderberry and Blackberry, two rosés - Cherry and Strawberry, and two whites - Gooseberry and Nettle & Ginger.

Lyme Bay Winery is also celebrating a selection of accolades from the Taste of the West Awards 2012. The Winery was awarded two gold awards; one for the Elderberry and Port Liqueur, and one for their Christmas Mead; five silvers (Cherry Brandy Liqueur, Sloe Liqueur, Chocolate Orange Cream Liqueur, Mulled Wine, and Jack Ratt Scrumpy), and two bronzes (Elderflower Sparkling Wine and Lyme Bay Sparkling Cider).

The terrible weather has delayed the Winery's Elderflower picking - as they need some more sunshine to blossom fully. This means both the fantastically popular Elderflower Classic wine and the lovely Sparkling Elderflower are now delayed in production a little longer. These things cannot, unfortunately, be rushed!

However, to cheer you up a little, you can enter this month's draw to win a free Jack Ratt golfing umbrella and a Jack Ratt Cider Gift Box. Whether you're off to watch some of the Olympics or Wimbledon or just for a walk, the umbrella should come in useful! Just tell us which is your favourite of our ciders and why? Email info@lymebaywinery.co.uk with your comments and contact details. The competition closes 31.07.12.

◆ For more details on Lyme Bay Winery or any of their products visit www.lymebaywinery.co.uk, call 01297 551355, or visit the Shop at The Winery, Shute, Axminster, Devon (EX13 7PW). The shop is open 9am-5pm Monday to Friday, 10am to 4pm Saturdays, and 11am to 3pm Sundays.

Beer Festival is bigger and better

NORTH Perrott Cricket Club is staging its second annual beer and cider festival at the Willis Lane ground on Saturday July 21st and all the signs are that it will be even more successful than last year.

It will feature 12 ciders – an increase on last year because they sold out so quickly – and 16 beers from around the UK, including a commemorative ale produced for the occasion by Palmers brewery of Bridport. As a result of a competition organised to come up with a name for the ale based on an Olympics theme, the judges have chosen 'Jave-ale-inn' submitted by Sue Ward, of North Perrott.

If the weather is anything as good as last year, visitors will be in cricket heaven, able to sit with a glass in hand and watch North Perrott 2nd XI play a home match against Staplegrove at what is regarded as one of the loveliest grounds in Somerset. Other attractions during the day include a hog roast, barbecue and live music from three bands including the popular Crooked Furrow.

The festival starts at 12noon and finishes at 11.00 pm and the entry price of £5 includes a souvenir glass. Tokens to be exchanged for glasses of beer or cider can be purchased on the way in, while for those who might prefer a glass of wine or a lager, the pavilion bar will be open.

"Last year was our first beer and cider festival and such was its success that we decided to organise it again this year but to start earlier," says Derek

Boles, chairman of the organising committee. "It is the perfect setting for such an event and we hope to see hundreds of people coming along and having a great time."

More businesses have come forward this year to support the festival through the sponsorship of barrels of beer and cider. "We'd like to thank them because their support gives us the foundations on which to present an even better festival," adds Derek.

NEVER MIND THE RAIN – COME 'ICE' SKATING UNDER COVER AT THE TURK'S HEAD LODGE

EVERYBODY is hoping the weather will improve for the school Summer Holidays, but even if it rains for the next 40 days, there is plenty of fun to be had at the Turk's Head Lodge in Honiton at their in-door 'ice' skating rink.

The rink will be open on a regular basis during the summer holidays and there will be free skating days on Saturday, July 21st from 10am til 9pm, 4th August and 8th September. If you don't fancy skating yourself, take the family along and enjoy refreshments in the relaxing café or spectate with a coffee and snack around the 'ice' rink. There are plenty of kids meals and ice creams on the menu too. Please phone The Lodge for holiday opening times.

Manager Dave Hall and his team welcome many different groups and clubs to the Turk's Head Lodge on a weekly basis, with Lions Bingo on the first Tuesday of every month, Salsa Dancing every Wednesday and Sing and Sign for young children being among the most popular attractions. Weight Watchers meet every Tuesday and Wednesday morning from 10am and the latest new activity is Zumba on Friday evenings from 7pm till 8pm and Street Dancing on Monday evenings and Saturdays from 10.30am till 2.30pm.

The café and full bar are open for refreshments for all of the above and the café hosts Curry Nights on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6pm till 9pm, featuring a choice of eight different curries.

On Sundays staff at The Lodge wind down the physical activity and the ballroom is used as the venue for the popular Sunday Carvery between midday and 3pm with additional seating in the café, or smaller meeting room. An excellent wine list is available.

The Turk's Head Lodge is ideal for meetings and conferences with room for 200 people in the ballroom and 30 people in the smaller conference room. Refreshments are available from the adjacent bar and café, with set buffet style meals organised by the friendly kitchen staff.

A private 'ice' skating party makes the perfect birthday celebration for any age group.

New staging of working class classic play to be performed at the Marine Theatre

TOWNSEND Productions is delighted to announce that it will be staging a new production of Stephen Lowe's critically acclaimed version of Robert Tressell's The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists at the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Saturday, July 14th.

Using instrumentation, songs of the period, movement, physicalisation, comedy and characterisation to create the spirit and clarity of the political message, the play shares with its audience a year in the life of a group of painters and decorators, as they renovate a three-storey town house for Mayor Sweater. It traces their struggle for survival in a complacent and stagnating Edwardian England. These workers are the "philanthropists" who throw themselves into back-breaking work for poverty wages in order to generate profit for their masters

Performed as a two-hander, the production, which coincides with the centenary anniversary of the author's death remains as vivid and as relevant as when it was written almost a century ago, runs.

Robert Tressell's The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists, has become a classic of working-class literature since its first publication in 1914. The themes and style of the piece are eternally relevant and provoking as it puts life and politics into sharp focus in an entertaining and accessible way. What, with a Tory-led coalition government in power, and that the year 2011 is the centenary anniversary of Robert Tressell's death, the company felt it was the right time for this show to be seen on tour nationally.

Stephen Lowe's version of the story was first seen in 1978, when Joint Stock Theatre Company toured the country playing to packed houses. The play was revived at the Half Moon Theatre, London in 1983 and again for a touring production by the Birmingham Rep in 1991.

The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists' excellent cast features Rodney Matthew who joins the production straight off the back of 'Jerusalem' in the West End. He has worked at many of the leading repertory theatres these have included: West Yorkshire Playhouse where he worked for a year and at Dundee Rep where he spent a memorable five years performing in classical, musical and new work around Scotland and Neil Gore (Song of Singapore, Chichester Festival Theatre and the West end). The production is directed by Louise Townsend, with the creative team including designs by Fine Time Fontayne.

Tickets for The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists are priced at £9.50 (£8 Concs) and can be purchased at the Box Office on 01297 442138 or online at www.marinetheatre.com.

CARING FOR THE ELDERLY

Glory Days

AU-PAIRS for the elderly

Are you elderly, living alone, needing a helping hand?
Have you considered employing a live in au-pair?

Perhaps you thought Au-pairs are exclusively for children
Au-pairs are also suitable for helping elderly couples or singles.
Hundreds of active pensioners in need of companion/carers live happily with an Au-pair.
The Au-pair becomes a family member, they help in everyday life, so you can continue in your usual lives.
At night you're not alone, you live in your own home, day time an Au-pair can provide company.
An Au-pair can help with, light house work, washing, ironing, cooking, tidying, shopping, car driving and pet care.
Sadly an Au-pair is not a nurse and should not be required for medical purposes.
The Au-pair movement exists to arrange accommodation for young people from abroad.
Salary is paid weekly as "pocket money"
They will be provided with their own room, lighting, heating, food and friendship, in return for brightening the daily lives of lonely people who need reliable help and companionship.

Alfa Romeo extends warranty to five years on Mito and Giulietta

ALFA Romeo is extending its current three-year warranty by a further two years across the MiTo and Giulietta product ranges to provide retail customers with added peace of mind on their new car purchases.

The news comes as the Italian sporting car brand launches the Alfa MiTo TwinAir – featuring the award winning 875cc twin-cylinder turbo engine with variable intake valve technology and sub-100g/km CO2 emissions.

The new extended warranty will consist of 36 months' unlimited mileage warranty, plus a further 24 months' mechanical warranty on all Alfa MiTo and Giulietta retail purchases. The additional cover protects the vehicle against manufacturer defects and component faults.

Damien Dally, Head of Brand, Alfa Romeo UK says, "Our strategy for the brand is all about attracting new customers. However, we appreciate in the current climate consumers are more risk averse and likely to stay with what they know."

"The Alfa Romeo brand has always had a strong emotional pull but we also have complete confidence in its rational credentials and believe our new extended five year warranty provides the retail car buyer with complete peace of mind."

The promotional five-year warranty will be available to retail customers until 30 September 2012.

Toyota Prius plug-in wins Next Green Car award

THE Next Green Car Awards 2012 have been announced today with Prius Plug-in taking the honours in the large family category. The latest member of the Prius range, the Prius Plug-in has been on sale in the UK from 9 July.

Next Green Car uses its unique Green Car Rating (GCR) to rank the greenest new cars to come to market, honouring the most innovative low emission models with the Next Green Car Awards. The winners were selected from shortlist of 26 of the UK's greenest new cars of 2012/13, for their environmental GCR level of innovation, value for money, drive experience and design.

Dr. Ben Lane, Managing Editor of Next Green Car said: "The 2012 winners reflect two key elements underlying current green car development: downsizing and electrification. Over half of the winners also incorporate electric drive-trains, either as pure electric cars, plug-in hybrids or with start-stop. Well worth the wait, the Prius Plug-in adds over 15 miles of zero-emission capability to the well proven standard Prius. A car which offers the benefits of an electric vehicle, but without the limitations of battery range."

Matt Harrison, Toyota (GB)'s Commercial Director said: "We are delighted that the Toyota Prius Plug-in has won the Next Green Car Award, particularly as it coincides with the new model going on sale in the UK. Plug-in hybrid represents the next step in Toyota hybrid technology, providing all the benefits of an electric vehicle but none of the downsides in terms of limited performance or driving range. As world leaders in hybrid technology we have now sold more than four million hybrids globally since launch."

For more information about the winners of the Next Green Car Awards 2012, visit: www.nextgreencar.com/awards-2012.

British-built Honda just got more competitive

HONDA is celebrating 20 years of UK manufacturing by introducing a range of competitive offers on its popular British-Built models to make getting in a new Honda more affordable. Available on new cars ordered between now and the end of September, the assortment of offers include competitive finance options, trim level upgrades, deposit contributions and servicing packages.

CR-V

Honda customers purchasing the CR-V can enjoy an extension of the popular Spring offer of a complimentary trim level upgrade. The SE+ will be upgraded to the ES-T variant with the addition of £2,490 worth of extra equipment, including an integrated navi system, dual zone climate control, heated front seats and front and rear parking sensors.

Those customers that want an added touch of luxury will receive an upgrade from the ES-T variant to the top spec EX trim. Additional features include full leather upholstery, panoramic roof, auto lights and wipers and a premium audio system, worth £2,520.

Honda is offering a £1,500 deposit contribution towards the car which can be used in conjunction with our finance packages of 3 years 0 per cent PCP with nil deposit or 3 years 0 per cent HP.

As well as a complimentary upgrade and deposit contribution, Honda is offering a 3 year servicing plan for only £299 and a 5 year servicing plan for £498.

Civic

The new Civic, recently named best value car on the road by Parker's, has had the cost of ownership made even more competitive with the availability of a £1500 deposit contribution. Buyers looking to purchase a new Civic now have the added option of financing the model with 3 years 6.9 per cent PCP with nil deposit or 3 years 0 per cent HP.

In addition to this, Honda is making the Civic available with a three year complimentary service plan, or for a payment of only £199 the plan can be extended to cover all servicing needs for 5 years.

Jazz

The JD Power Survey's supermini of the year and Which?'s best used supermini, the Honda Jazz, has received high praise for affordability and low running costs, but Honda wants to take that even further.

The Jazz is available with a £500 deposit contribution and 3 years complimentary servicing at your local Honda dealer. Customers can upgrade to a 5 years servicing plan for just £199. There are also flexible finance packages of 6.9 per cent PCP with nil deposit or 3 years 0 per cent HP.

The Jazz Si, launched this week, has highly competitive finance offers such as 3 years 0 per cent PCP with payments of £149 per month with a 27 per cent deposit. The Jazz range has class leading space and reliability and with high resale values, is an attractive choice for buyers looking for a real investment.

Looking further afield – Insight and CR-Z

Customers looking to purchase a hybrid model can also benefit from Honda's competitive finance deals. The congestion exempt Insight and world's first sporty hybrid, the CR-Z, are available with 3 years 6.9 per cent PCP with nil deposit or 3 years 0 per cent HP.

The 3 years complimentary servicing plans is also available, along with the upgrade to 5 years servicing for £199.

youth cricket Honiton

Honiton U17 vs Budleigh

THE home side won the toss and invited visitors Budleigh to bat first with the rain forecast to arrive at any moment.

Budleigh got off to a slow start against Honiton's opening pair of Adam Thompson (1 for 18) and Harry Wright (1 for 17) who combined to remove both openers.

But, despite a tight first eight overs, the runs then began to flow as first Jake Dart (25) then Aaron Conway (50no) and Harry Connison (41no) played in an aggressive manner to move the score along to 136 for 4 with some very impressive strokes.

Steady rain greeted Honiton's innings. It never got hard enough to stop play, but it did effect the pitch and Honiton's batsmen struggled with their timing and the bounce of the ball.

After a steady start wickets began to fall when Matt Murphy was introduced into the attack and he helped himself to 5 for 12 from his for overs and ended any hope Honiton had of chasing down the target.

Tom Cligg (26no) and Shane Kennard (31no) stopped the tumble of wickets and carried the bats throughout the remainder of the match and Honiton finished 100 for 5 from their 20 overs.

Honiton U15 v Upottery

HONITON'S newest age group entertained local rivals Upottery who fielded a young side against their hosts.

Honiton won the toss and batted first and scored runs quickly despite Upottery's bowlers chipping in with regular wickets.

Kieran Murphy once again starred with bat for Honiton top scoring with 32. Brandon Ede (16) and extras 20 got the hosts to 114 for 8 from their 20 overs.

Alex Piper (3 for 19) and Luke Robinson (2 for 10) where the pick of the Upottery attack.

In reply, Upottery never really threatened as their younger batsmen struggled against some of Honiton's more experienced bowlers.

Only Matt Broom (42no) managed to have an effect on the scoreboard despite being dropped five times by various Honiton Fielders.

Honiton's bowlers all chipped in with a wicket apiece and still managed to gift their opponents with 31 extras and the innings came to a close on 85 for 5 to give Honiton their first win of the season.

SINGLES/PAIRS FINALS NIGHT

THE rain was somehow dodged long enough last Tuesday night to hold the Finals night for the Singles and Pairs competitions in the misty murk of The Harbour in Axmouth writes Gerard Wood.

Well done to everyone for turning out, and thanks to all those who refereed matches and also to our pen-and-paper scorers!

The singles saw a number of high quality games, but the match of the quarter-finals was undoubtedly the last one, where Bill Marshall of Whitford Warriors staged a great comeback from 8-1 down against Graham Hayball (Lamb Mutton) to level at 8-8, only to lose out at the final end.

The semi-finals weren't so close, but the final between Mark Ward (Kings & Queens) and Gerard Wood (Golden Hind B) lived up to its billing with scoring remaining close throughout.

Mark had a great chance to win the match with a three when 7-6 down, but could only manage a two; the following end saw Mark cannon an opposing boule into a scoring position with his final play whilst one down, to lose 9-8. An unfortunate way for the match to end!

Quarter-finals: Merv Joslin (Colyton FC) 9 Stan Cropton (Kings Arms A) 4; Mark Ward (Kings & Queens) 9 Mark Edworthy (Beer Club) 4; Gerard Wood (Golden Hind B) 9 Ian 'Skipper' Holt (Royal Clarence B) 5; Graham Hayball (Lamb Mutton) 9 Bill Marshall (Whitford Warriors) 8.

Semi-finals: Mark Ward 9 Merv Joslin 3; Gerard Wood 9 Graham Hayball 2.

FINAL: Gerard Wood 9 Mark Ward 8. The Pairs saw three fairly close games; the final was nip-and-tuck in the early stages before the Kings Jesters pair of Roger Upright and Tone Whitehurst pulled away for a 9-6 victory over Royal Clarence A.

Semi-Finals: Kings Jesters 9 New Inn Flyers 6; Royal Clarence A 9 Kings & Queens 6.

FINAL: Kings Jesters 9 Royal Clarence A 6.

◆ A couple of back matches in the League were also played last week: Division 2: Lamb (mutton) 0 Royal Clarence A 5; Harbour Fourplay 3 Harbour A 2.

ON THE SPOT...

Q How long have you been involved in the local cricket scene? Who have you played for?

A Since moving to East Devon in 2002 I first played for Sidbury and then moved to Uplyme & Lyme Regis seven years ago. I also turn out for the Met Office in the Exeter Evening League.

Q Name the three best players you played alongside so far and why.

A Steve Batey and the Caddy brothers Ashley and Adam take some beating. All three are talented cricketers who can be match winners with bat or ball. Their fielding is top class too.

Q What's the best away ground you've played on?

A Shobrooke Park, Filleigh and Whitchurch are amongst the most picturesque whilst Cornwood's new pavilion provides the best facilities. A special mention for the teas at Hatherliegh too!

Q Do any games stick in your memory?

A There are many memorable matches, but against Kenn in 2006 I put on 120 with Steve Batey for the 9th wicket. I stuck around for 40 odd to allow Steve to reach his maiden century for the club.

Q How would you improve things at Uplyme & Lyme Regis CC?

A The club is thriving on and off the pitch but an extension to the pavilion to provide better kitchen and bar facilities would allow us to be even more successful.

Q What is your top score/best bowling performance?

A Batting it's 86 not out for Sidbury and 54 for Uplyme in my first season for them. That year also I took 6 for 13, including a hat-trick, against Yarcombe & Stockland 2nds and was swiftly promoted to the 1st XI.

Q Name some young players we should look out for in the future.

A There are several promising youngsters in the club. I have recently played with James Dunford and Wes Holmes both who will become far more talented as cricketers than I ever was.

NEXT WEEK: Uplyme & LR CC's STEVE BATEY

running round up

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

HONITON Running club's Howard Bidmead was due to have taken part in the Charmouth Challenge last Saturday had it not been cancelled due to the torrential rain which caused landslides and dangerous conditions on the cliffs writes Judy Davey.

Not content to relax for the weekend, he managed to find a nice little race on Sunday up in the Quantock Hills in Somerset. The Quantock Beast organised by the Quantock Harriers is 5.7 miles of tough multi terrain running. The race started, and finished, at Fyne House, a National Trust estate.

Amazingly, the race was run in beautiful weather, and had fine views and, with all the recent bad weather, as much mud as you would ever want.

The race has a downhill start and a downhill finish but other than that there are large amounts of climb through the Quantock Hills.

There were 72 entrants and the winner was John Firth of Southville Running Club in a time of 38 minutes 24 seconds. Howard was 16th overall in 49:06.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

ON Sunday Luke Reed competed in the Plymouth Standard Distance Triathlon writes Dave Mutter. The race comprised of a 1500m sea swim held in the harbour, which he completed in 22.45.

This was followed a 40km undulating bike ride which Luke completed in 1.17.56.

Finally there was a very hilly 2 lap 10km run in which he recorded a time of 43.59, giving him an overall time of 2.26.44, and 14th place out of 160 competitors; a really good result.

■ HOLLIER SPRINTS CLEAR: Ottery St Mary's Ed Hollier raced to a clear victory at Torbay Motor Club's first sprint at Clay Pigeon Raceway on Sunday, July 1st taking fastest time of the day in his Hyabusa-engined Pilbeam MP62 by an impressive margin of over one and half seconds. His winning first-run (69.97) was the only time under the 70 second mark.

The tight kart-circuit, midway between Yeovil and Dorchester, suited the smaller-engined racing cars, with neither Dave Sims (Ralt RT33/34 SRD) nor John Opie/John Burton in their shared Ralt RT3 being able to push their 2-litre machines to make an impression on the leading pair; to reinforce his mastery of the track Hollier's second run of 70.41 seconds would also have been good enough for victory. Photo courtesy of Terry Thorne, Tel T Motorsport Photography: www.teltp photography.com

Olympics build up Imogen gets the nod

■ CALL-UP:
Imogen Cairns

IMOGEN Cairns is now beginning the countdown to the Olympic Games in London after being selected for the Great Britain gymnastics WRITES KEVIN FAHEY.

After a nervous wait the 23-year-old, whose family live in the east Devon hamlet of Southleigh, was confirmed in the five-strong squad for her second Olympic Games after making her debut in Beijing four years ago.

Cairns has already linked up with the British squad for an intensive training camp at Lilleshall looking to build upon the recent return to her best from that saw her clinch a place in the squad after so many injury problems since 2008.

She was out of action for 18 months with serious ankle injuries after helping the British women finish ninth in the team event in Beijing and her long-time coach Liz Kincaid, from The Academy of Gymnastics in Portishead, acknowledged that Cairns had to fight harder than ever before to force her way back into the reckoning.

"We work hard every year – but we have worked exceptionally hard this year," said Cairns.

"We knew it would be a difficult decision, because the Olympic team has gone from six team members to five this year. But Imogen has worked so hard for this and it is a very proud day."

Cairns has consistently been one of Britain's best gymnasts for several years. She has won three Commonwealth Games gold medals and recently finished fourth in the all-round final at the British Championships in Liverpool, the final Olympic trial event.

The next key date in her diary in Sunday, July 29th at The o2 Arena – which will be known during the Olympics as the North Greenwich Arena – when qualification for the Games medal events takes place.

"You don't stay in top-level gymnastics as long as Imogen has without being an absolutely fantastic competitor," added Cairns.

"You have to absolutely love the sport, too, and she loves gymnastics."

Roger and Ron march on

BOWLS NEWS

SEATON with Linda Stone

THE bowls fixtures this week were disrupted by the weather with two friendly games cancelled on Monday and Tuesday.

However, the ladies over 50s triple league match scheduled for Wednesday against Pince Gardens, at Seaton, was played.

The result was one triple won, one lost, but it was an overall win for Seaton giving us four points. This was followed on Friday morning by the return match at Sidmouth for the ladies. Again we won one triple and lost the other, but won overall so another four points were accrued.

Congratulations go to Ron Rowley and Roger Woolland who have won the Bowls Devon, Section

3, Grater Pairs competition.

They beat a pair from Madeira Bowls club in a close fought game which had to go to an extra end. They won 22 – 20. They now go on to the quarter finals.

FENITON with Roger Smith

IN a week where fixtures were sadly curtailed by adverse weather conditions, the men's over 60s A team prospered, with a second consecutive eight point haul, against visiting North Tawton.

Feniton won by 40-26, thereby avenging an early season reverse in the reverse fixture. The winning rinks were: S Nevill, A Smith & R Arundell 20-12 and E Cox, R North & P Edmonds 20-14.

The B team suffered a defeat by 27-44 away at Culmpton.

golf round-up

HONITON with Andy Wagner

ANY 36-hole competition is as much reliant on the weather as the fitness levels of the competitors so we were watching those reports with a very keen eye.

As it turned out the rain held off and both sessions were played in relatively mild conditions. There were four trophies on offer but the battle to be Club Champion was paramount.

In the end the John Adams Scratch Trophy went to Mark Gillard with a 36-hole score of 145 leaving James Drew (147) in second place but winning the McClydemont Cup with the best handicap score. Dan Noar was third with a gross 155.

Elizabeth Ward won the ladies 36-hole Championship with a two round gross of 187, just beating Jackie Seagar's 189.

The Seniors' Ron Blatchford Trophy was won by John Dickinson.

MONTHLY MEDAL

LAST week's monthly medal escaped the storm clouds too with Ed Reece (69) triumphing ahead of Stuart Slater (71) and Pete Bonetta (73) in Division One.

In Division Two Tim Morris (71) held off the challenge of Malcolm Matthews (72) and Steve Charlton (73).

SENIORS CAPTAIN'S PRIZE

THE Seniors Captain's Prize competition attracted 71 entrants who played a Stableford round in dry weather for a change.

Only three players managed to score better than nett par. The winner was Peter Blake with 40 points. Runner-up John Ward scored 39 and in third place man Bob Bilyard made 37.

The other three prize winners came in with 35 points. They were Ron Rogers, John Dickinson and Bob Underwood. They all received vouchers of their choice.

There were 13 birdies in total, two of them being scored by Ron Craig, all winning golf balls.

AXE CLIFF with Janet Dack

SENIORS

ON Thursday, in pleasant conditions, the Seniors pulled off a second successive away win, this time at Torrington with the same score as at Minehead a week ago, by 4 matches to 2.

Winning pairings for Axe Cliff included: Mick Tomes & John Mant, Hugh Willis & Neil Moorcraft, Malcolm Glass & Jack Bannister and Dave Morgan & Bob Graham.

For the Charity Bowl on the following day it was back to strong, gusting winds making scoring extremely difficult.

Three players returned cards of 32 points, and on countback, the winner was Tony Strong (9). Second place went to Roger Hill (18) and third to Nick Povey (21). There were two 2s from Gerry Turner and Iain Bain.

Due to thick fog, gale force winds and heavy rains the last two Wednesday competitions for the Ladies have been postponed, however last Saturday a 4.45 shot gun start found a mixture of members celebrating mid-summer with a Texas Scramble.

The winners were an all male team namely Alex Palmer, Stuart Dickson, Matt Donman & Brett Garner.

Ashford looking to local talent

Bennett rejoins team

NEW Axminster Town manager Paul Ashford has promised to give all local players who believe they are good enough the opportunity to play in the Peninsula League.

He said: "First and foremost I want local players who are keen, up to the task and want to play for this football club. Any ex-Axminster players can expect a level opportunity if they return to the club."

Ashford cut his teeth in local football playing for Honiton before progressing to non-contract terms with Exeter City at 21 and then on to Tiverton Town and Clyst Rovers before finishing with Budleigh Salterton.

His one and only managerial appointment was a three and half year stint as part of the management team alongside Phil Margrett and Jason Stiling which landed the Sidmouth Town team the Devon & Exeter League Premier division title for the first time in 45 years.

Ashford has already brought ex-Axminster Town manager James Bennett in to his new management team that will be increased in due course.

"James has a good knowledge of the local players and is hungry to help which is always a great help. We won't take ourselves too seriously but obviously want to be successful."

The Tigers, who are training on Wednesday evenings at 7pm, will play pre-season matches on their old home at Sector Lane, but Ashford confirmed to VIEW SPORTS that the club's South-West Peninsula League matches would be played at Ottery St Mary's Washbrook Meadows.

Axminster's first game of the new season is a 'home' match against Exmouth Town on Saturday, August 18th followed by the visit of the Exeter University students seven days later.

Ex-player and club stalwart Alan Beer will be managing the 'Tigers' Reserve team as they take their place in the Fresa Devon & Exeter League division four.
